Operation of App of New HP Series

Dear Valued Distributor

Thank you for choosing HIOS as always.

We would like to ask you for a favor on the occasion of releasing HP torque meter.

As announced previously, new HP has Bluetooth function and it comes with App. However, we need you to send the App to customers at local level. It is because if we post it on our website and let end-users download freely, it will be considered to be an export of technology. It means we have to process an export every single download which we are not capable of handling. Therefore, we need each distributor to send it to a customer at each region. It will be quite trouble for you but please address instead of HIOS.

I attach the App and file of how to connect Bluetooth which extracted from the manual for you information.
